An aerial photograph of a vast, snow-covered mountain range. A narrow, winding path or road is visible, cutting through the white expanse. The sky is a deep, dark blue, suggesting twilight or a clear night. The overall scene is serene and majestic, capturing the beauty of a high-altitude winter landscape.

In this one-hour show based on Winter News, a poetry collection by Alaskan poet John Haines (1924-2011), composer Alan Chan explores the magical landscape of the north with six performers incorporating improvisation and narration. It will also feature a musical setting of Cape Cod poet Elaine Cohen's In January.
